The old Gayoso Hotel is to undergo thorough transformation, and beyond Gayoso street, if the city's new masters had not so grievously disappointed public expectation in the conduct of public finances, a stately structure would have filled the vacant square north and next the abandoned palace north and next the abandoned palace that bears the name of the ancient Spanish pro-consul. Calamities befel and thieves plundered us. Brownlow reigned and Barbour's gaing infested offices, and robbed and impoverished the people, and Memphis stood still for a time, and Waldran's faith in Memphis's progress was pronounced Waldran's folly. But now the blindest see that Waldran saw accurately where wealth would, sooner or later, establish its central stronghold, and North Memphis representatives stupidly co-operated with those who sought to drive Memphis into Fort Pickering.

Property values south of Union street. Such is the question propounded us by a correspondent. We answer: It is, if an era of good feeling, uehered in by the man who warred upon the South for thirty years, but who, his mission at complished, refuses to persecute those whom he has overcome in the field, the form and boulevards, it is demonstrably true that they were the worst possible enemies of Chelsea and Pinch who failed to consede everything demanded by rallways, and thus opposed their concentration in the navy-ward. The city was given a fearful impetus southwardly, and there were those aggrieved because the APPEAD pointed out wrongs done Pinch and Chelsea by their own representatives. But northern districts are only less prospecus than those south of the old central streets. Memphis expands in all directions. Memphis expands in all directions. Chelsea last Sunday was robed in gandy.
